Facts

The Statue of Liberty was built as a gift by French sculptor Frederic Auguste Bartholdi. It is to symbolize the welcoming for all immigrants and as well as a universal symbol of freedom. The female form represented by the sculpture is based on Libertas, the Roman goddess of liberty. She holds a torch in her right hand and a tablet that has the date of the American Declaration of Independence (July 4, 1776) in her left hand. The official name of the Statue of Liberty is "Liberty Enlightening the World". The Statue of Liberty stands 151 feet in height and 305 feet from the ground to the torch.

The Kennedy Space Center was named after President John F. Kennedy. The Kennedy Space Center is where NASA rockets are launched and Space Shuttles take off and land. This site is known as the hub for launch operations into space. The building was initially supposed to be made from structural steel but as structural engineers thought better on it and went with reinforced concrete for its acoustical properties. Apollo 1, the first Lunar landing mission, on July 16, 1969 was launched at this station. On January 21, 2000 it was listed under the National Register of Historic Places due to its importance on the Apollo and shuttle programs.

Facts

The Liberty Bell is a symbol of America's independence. The bell was cast in England by a company now known as the Whitechapel Bell and ship to America. The bell cracked the first time it was rung and was then recast by John Pass and Joh Stow twice. The Liberty Bell weights approximately 2080 pounds and is made of 70% copper. The words engraved on the Liberty Bell across the top of the bell is , "Proclaim Liberty Throughout All the Land Unto All the Inhabitants Thereof". While there is no record that the Liberty Bell was rung, many believe it was rung when the Declaration of Independence was read on July 8, 1776
